The Frog Lady (Reclining) · pass 10

After Laura's three notes of 10/30 (the knee, the core, the head). A drawing pass only: nothing is live, nothing in the game changes until Laura says so.

BEFORE · AFTER

BEFORE · pass 9, the draft Laura marked up (1200 × 800)

AFTER · pass 10 (1200 × 800, transparent; the SVG is 38,594 B)

THE AFTER BESIDE HER SISTERS, AT THE SAME SIZE

SITTING · sister drawing (image 4, 1000 × 1000)

RECLINING · pass 10 (1200 × 800)

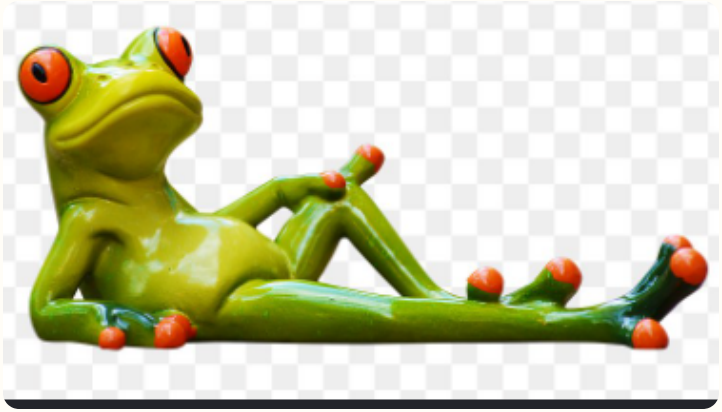

WITH HER FAN · sister drawing (image 5, 900 × 1100)

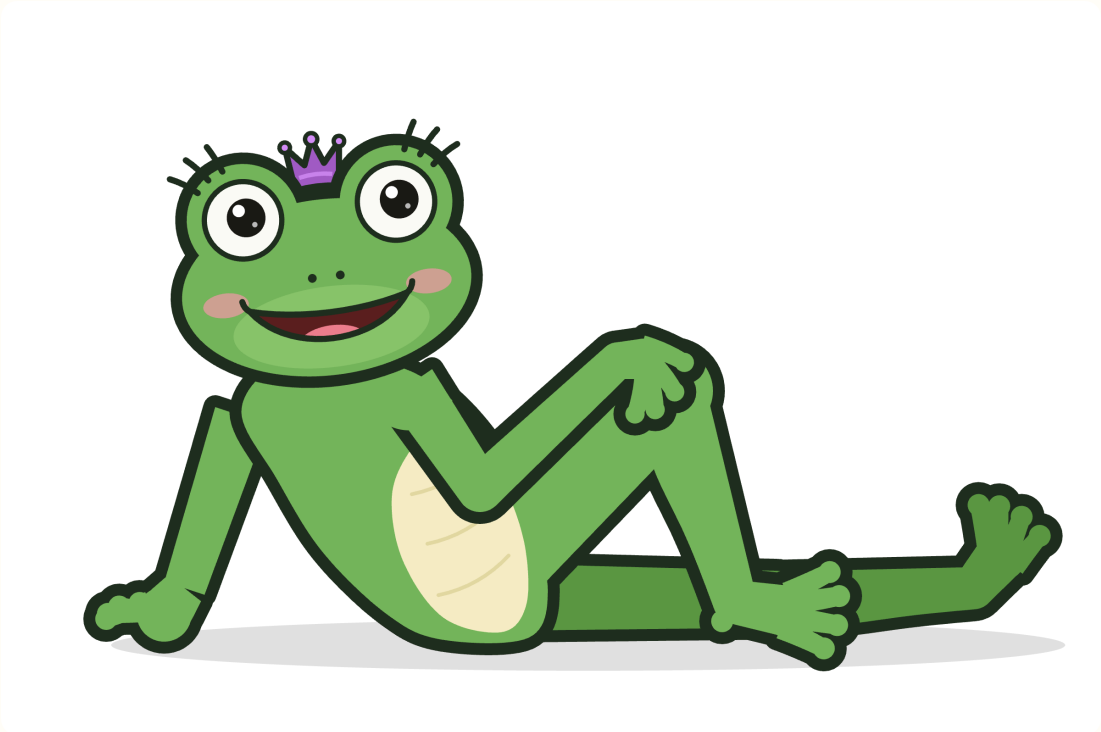

One scale for the three: a unit of her file is a unit of theirs (the boxes are as wide as the files are), the figures stood on one floor.

Same ink #22301f, same fills #74b65a #5a9a45 far leg #f6efc6 belly, webbed hands and feet with round pads that grow out of the limbs, the soft floor shadow. Her face is pass 9's face, kept.

THE POSE LAURA ASKED FOR

LAURA'S REFERENCE · the resin lounging frog (image 2): leaning back on one arm, hand flat on the floor behind her; the near knee raised with the other hand draped over it; the far leg stretched out long, toes tipped up.

PASS 10 · the same four things, in the family style.

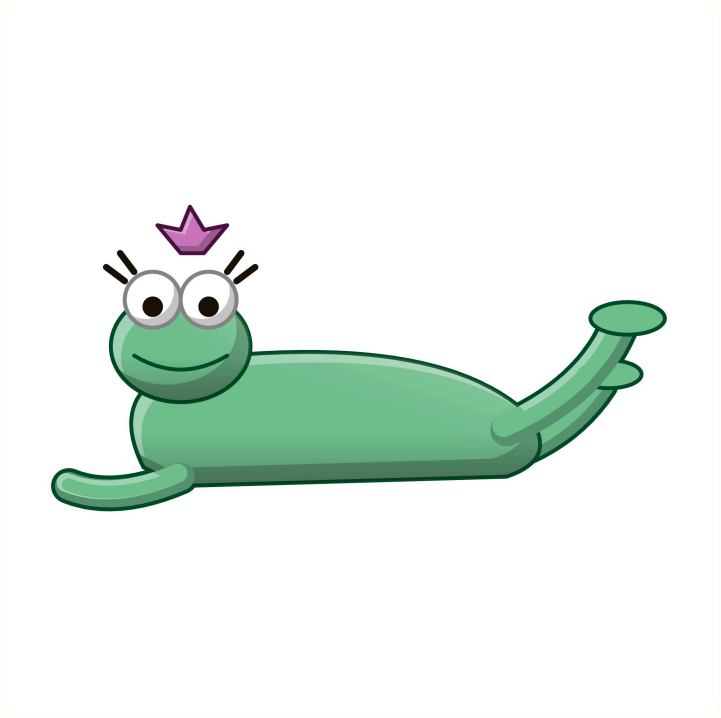

HER THREE NOTES, ANSWERED

1. THE KNEE The thigh rises out of the hip into a rounded knee at chest height, the shin comes down to the foot flat on the floor, the calf sits on the back of the shin, and the knee bends the right way (the resin's angle). The hand's palm lies on top of the kneecap and the fingers fan over its far side, not against its side.

2. THE CORE The torso is a leaning egg: chest up under the chin, the belly soft and cream on the front with three folds, the hips settled flat on the floor. The chest, hips and raised thigh are one silhouette drawn as one shape, so there is no seam and no lump where the thigh or the near arm joins; the far leg and the propping arm come out from behind her.

3. THE HEAD The head sits square on the shoulders (the chin on the chest, no neck, no collar) and is tipped back a little, looking out. The face is pass 9's: open happy eyes, lashes on the outer top of each eye dome, blush, the open smile with the tongue, the small purple crown seated between the domes, behind them.

IN THE GAME TODAY

THE GAME TODAY · the Hideout Lobby's reclining lady as she is (image 3). Untouched by this pass.

What this is

One SVG (viewBox 0 0 1200 800, transparent) + one PNG, drawn by a script in the kit `design/frog-lady-recline-1030/kit/build.py` so every later note is a number to change. The character sheet's row is bg:croaklady-recline (The Frog Lady (Reclining), THE HIDEOUT LOBBY). Laura reviews first; the sheet and the game take the drawing only on her word.
